GUIDANCE

STUDY PLANS

Well done to our students having finished their Easter assessments and pre exams. At this point as you're receiving your results, each student is in a more informed position to assess your own personal progress in each of your subjects. Listen carefully to the feedback your teachers offer you on your exam performance. With this in mind, you may wish to set some fresh targets and goals now to maximise your time remaining with us this year. A good study plan with realistic achievable targets set for each week, is key to maintaining a good work ethic and achieving those goals. I'm available to students to help establish study plans and discuss study technique should anybody want to book in.

STUDENT ACCOMMODATION INFORMATION

Some of you may be looking at registering for campus accommodation in various colleges. The following are some helpful timelines to be aware of for some of the main colleges and links for registration and further info below.

UCD- early April / Trinity- March 18th - 4th May

University of Galway- apply now / DCU- apply now

UL - apply now / RCSI- apply now

All relevant links are on my classroom.

GUEST SPEAKER GRIFFITH COLLEGE

Our next lunch time careers session is this Wednesday, March 26th in top study. Griffith is a private college with part time options to study undergrad courses and much reduced CAO points. Definitely an option to be aware of; they offer Law (249 points 2024), Psychology and Business degrees to name a few.

CONSIDERING STUDYING DRAMA IN THE UK?

Talk ONLINE on Monday the 31st of March at 7pm UK time. The talk is to support students and parents to best navigate getting into UK Drama School. The talk will share what drama schools are and what they are looking for. It will also discuss the differences between universities and drama schools and the reality of working in the industry. It will touch on roles to play, both on and off stage/camera and how to be strategic when applying to drama schools. There will also be an open Q and A session at the end of the talk.

Have a great week everyone! Joanne

STUDENT SPOTLIGHT

At the weekend our students pictured above from left to right Sallyann O'Sullivan, Annie Paul, Alanna O'Shea and Molly McDaid attended the Dukes Renaissance Scholars symposium hosted by our colleagues in The Institute of Education, Leeson Street, Dublin. The symposium was attended by students across the Duke family of schools. The event was a celebration of Dublin Culture and literature. A great weekend was had by all. They visited places like The Book of Kells and Dublinia, listened to speakers such as the Keynote speaker Professor Margaret Kelleher, attended an event in The National Concert Hall, learned about Irish traditions, language and dance and much more!
